Interpon Color of the Year 2023

Color, performance and protection for the wild at heart

Everyone needs color. Colors that dazzle and colors that hide, colors that stand out or blend in. Colors you can see and colors you can't. Colors that enhance the buildings in which we work and live; the furniture on which we sit and relax; the everyday household products that integrate effortlessly and harmoniously with our everyday lives.

In recent years we have taken inspiration from the rhythms of nature around us, and in doing so created Wild Wonder, Interpon's new Color of the Year.

It's one of a palette of eight new colors inspired by nature, and how by learning from nature – its shapes, structures and colors – we can create even more comfortable, beautiful spaces in which to live and work. It's a palette that helps us reflect and reconsider our relationship with earth's natural resources, with the warm tones of the harvest, and the positivity and energy that flows from the happy promise of a new season and a world sustained.

It's a color imagined by an international team of color experts, designers and architects from around the world and within AkzoNobel's Global Aesthetics Center, with access to more than three decades of research and trend analysis. It's a team dedicated to delivering both the color and performance deserving of your reputation, and ours.
